COPYRIGHT AND LICENSING POLICY

Policy version 2.0 Approved by the AJTES Editorial Board: 1 November 2026 | Effective date: 1 November 2026

1. Copyright

Authors publishing in the Albanian Journal of Trauma and Emergency Surgery (AJTES) retain copyright of their scholarly work. Copyright is not transferred to AJTES or its publisher. Authors grant AJTES a non-exclusive licence to publish, distribute, preserve and identify itself as the original publisher of the Version of Record (VoR), as further specified in the AJTES Author Declaration Form, Part E.

2. Open Access Licence

Articles published on or after 1 November 2026 are published open access under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Licence (CC BY 4.0): https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/. The licence permits anyone to copy, share, redistribute and adapt the work for any purpose, including commercially, in any medium or format, subject to its terms.

Users must give appropriate credit, link to the licence and indicate whether changes were made. Credit should identify the author(s), article title, AJTES as the original publisher and the DOI where available. Reuse must not imply endorsement by the author(s) or journal.

The non-exclusive publication licence takes effect following acceptance in accordance with the signed author declaration. If a manuscript is rejected or withdrawn before acceptance, no publication licence is conferred. Following publication, valid Creative Commons permissions remain subject to the terms of the applicable licence.

3. Copyright and Licence Notice

The following notice will appear with each article to which this policy applies:

> © [Year] The Author(s). This is an open access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Licence (CC BY 4.0), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, reproduction and adaptation in any medium, provided that the original work is properly cited, the licence is linked and changes are indicated.

4. Exceptions to Author Copyright

Where applicable law, employment arrangements or public-domain status establish a different copyright position (including certain government works or Crown copyright), AJTES will use an appropriate copyright and licensing notice. Authors must disclose relevant circumstances at submission. Any post-publication correction to the copyright notice will be assessed, authorised and documented in accordance with applicable law and AJTES correction procedures.

5. Third-Party Material

Authors must obtain necessary permissions to reproduce third-party text, figures, tables, photographs or other content unless use is permitted by law or an existing licence. The permission must cover the intended publication and reuse, or the material must be expressly excluded from the article's CC BY 4.0 licence. Credits and captions must identify the rights holder, source, applicable licence and any reuse restrictions. Identifiable patient materials additionally require appropriate publication consent.

6. Self-Archiving and Author Reuse

Authors may archive the submitted manuscript (preprint), Author Accepted Manuscript (AAM) and published Version of Record (VoR) in institutional or subject repositories and on academic or personal websites, subject to applicable third-party rights and agreements. AJTES imposes no embargo on such deposits for articles governed by this policy. Authors should provide the citation and DOI of the VoR once available, and clearly distinguish earlier versions from the published article.

7. Effective Date and Previously Published Articles

This policy applies to articles published on or after 1 November 2026, the date of its approval by the AJTES Editorial Board. Articles published before that date remain governed by the copyright and licensing terms applicable at their publication (CC BY-NC 4.0, as shown on each article). No retrospective relicensing occurs automatically; changes require a valid legal basis and documented authorisation.

8. Related Policies and Implementation

This policy is to be read together with the AJTES Author Declaration Form (especially Part E), Instructions for Authors, APC Policy, Peer Review Policy and Editorial Workflow. AJTES will ensure consistent licence information in its OJS website, PDF and HTML articles, and deposited metadata, as applicable. Questions regarding copyright and licensing should be addressed to the AJTES Editorial Office.
